An honest Confession.

If we were asked the reason why "VIAVI" performs such wonderful cures, we would be honest, and say, "We don't know." Ask a scientist why an apple invariably falls downward, and he would say it was due to the law of Gravitation.

That is about all he could tell you. It is no more natural for bodies to gravitate toward the center of the earth than it is for "VIAVI" to cure the diseases peculiar to women. It is not a drug, but a food, which nourishes and strengthens the affected parts, thereby enabling nature to throw off the disease. Our Health Book sent free.

WILL WAKE UP.

Congress May Shake Off its Lethargy,

And Wake Up to Do Some Business.

TO BE SHARP DEBATE.

Indians are Looking After Their Interests.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—[Special.]—"You may say to a moral certainty that the dullness in both houses is near an end, and we shall have some lively sparring now—six weeks of it anyhow." So say several experienced members, and it is promised. In addition by several senators that they will get through the tariff discussion early in May or by the middle of that month at the very latest. The extreme dullness in the house during the discussion on the appropriation bill—for only the members intending to offer amendments or discuss them on each particular bill were present during most of the time such bill was before the house—has given the committee abundant time to prepare, and the interest centers on the agricultural bills from the Hatch committee, the Indian bills, the Butterfield bill or resolution providing for systematic measures to recover $40,000,000 from the men who made money out of the Union Pacific railway and the Ethical bill for free ships, which are expected to provoke some very lively debate.

"But at the outset we are confronted with all these complications of laws and decisions covering a period of years, and quite as complex and of as great magnitude as any question with which congress has had to deal with in recent years."

"We have arrived at a stage in the history of this transaction when legislation of some character is absolutely necessary, and previous legislation on the subject has been deferred awaiting the approach of the maturity of this debt, when the situation and its necessities could be better understood and more wisely considered. The first installment of the bonds amounting to $2,362,000, issued by the government in aid of the construction of these roads falls due in January, 1895, and must be provided for during the next fiscal year."

"One thing is certain, however, that the committee fully appreciate the gravity of the responsibility imposed upon them and intends to meet it fully with an eye to securing the best possible protection of the government's interests."

THE OLNEY SCANDAL GROWS.
Denunciation of His Position on the U. S. Question.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The world contains the following editorial, which attracts much attention from New York Democrats:

"The disgrace of Olney has got itself into congress as a subject of contention."

"The Union Pacific railroad company owes an enormous sum of money to the United States. The payment is long-overdue. But the company has paid nothing and manifestly does not intend to pay anything until it is forced to do so."

"In the meantime it has paid not less than $40,000,000 to its stockholders and others out of money to which the government has a valid prior claim."

"A specific statute requires the attorney general to bring a suit against the company and against the recipients of this $40,000,000 for its recovery."

"But Richard Olney is understood to be the hired attorney of some of these people. He has protected them against the government's just demand by refusing to bring the suit ordered by statute."

"Mr. Boatner, of Louisville, has introduced a resolution recognizing the attorney-general's unscrupulousness and his failure to insist on having the suit brought by private attorneys outside the attorney-general's office."

"The Indians selected Lieutenant H. P. Scott of the Seventh United States cavalry as the head of their delegation and sent with him their principal chiefs, the Sioux and Oglala, the Comanche and Lone Wolf, a Kiowa chief, who was attending the commencement at Carlisle school and came on to help Big Look-ing Glass, Apache John and Akishatom, the regular delegates. They were beyond question the finest looking Indians that have appeared before the committee for many years, and the scene when Lone Wolf, a magnificent looking old fellow, addressed the committee, his remarks being interpreted by his son, a student at Carlisle school and a fine looking young fellow, appeared in the uniform of a United States artillerist, with sergeant's stripes, and it was almost a liberal education in ethnology to hear him render the literally complicated phrases and cumbersome polysyllabic gutturals of his father into terms and direct English."

"Here, too, the difference between the views of eastern and western men came out very strongly, as Messrs. Pickle of South Dakota, Wilson of Washington, Flynn of Colorado and Curtis of Kansas passed the Indian witnesses very closely with questions, while Chairman Holman and the eastern men endeavored to restrain this cross examination. The indications are, however, that the proposition for allowing these tribes to remain under their present treaty till it expires, late in 1897, will be approved. The treaty provides for giving them $2,000,000 for their land, of which $500,000 are to be paid at once and the remainder put on interest for the education of the tribe, and it is so. But it is a deserved condemnation. Had he done his duty or respected his honor with even a tolerable faithfulness, nobody would ever have thought of introducing such a resolution."

"It is because Richard Olney has betrayed his trust, because he is a lawyer employed by the trusts and railroads to protect them against government claims and government prosecutions, that both the people and their representatives have learned to regard him as the attorney on the other side, and to look to some other agency than the department of justice for the due assertion of the rights of the government and the people."

"It is a scandal of stupendous proportions that this should be so. But the attorney-general is himself the author of that scandal, and the president, who obstinately keeps him in office, is its godfather."

DEATH FOR WORSHIPPERS

An Anarchist Seeks It in a Church at Grenoble, France.

PARIS, March 22.—A dispatch from Grenoble says a bomb was exploded yesterday afternoon in a church near Grenoble. The bomb, it appears, was placed against a screen inside the main entrance of the church, and it exploded at about 4 o'clock, as the congregation was leaving the sacred edifice after an evening service.

The explosion injured twenty persons, three of whom may die as the result. The explosion caused a panic in the church, during which a number of persons were injured by being trampled under foot. No arrests have been made, as the dispatch referred to was sent from Grenoble.

Registers Under An Assumed Name To Avoid Further Notoriety.

CHICAGO, March 22.—M. B. Curtis, the well known actor, is at the Grand Pacific, registered as D. B. Anderson, Philadelphia. Why his identity became known he said he was tired of the notice that attached to him since his trial for murder in San Francisco. "I am still running my trials at Austin, Texas," he said, "and am now on my way to New York to take the boards again."

A Peculiar Railroad Suit in Labette County.

As to Reward for Captured Train Robbers.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

Coroner's Verdict in Sedgwick Poisoning Case.

PARSONS, March 22.—A very peculiar case has come before the probate court of this county in regard to the Mount Valley train robbers. The St. Louis & San Francisco offered $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the robbers. The robbers were arrested with every probability of speedy conviction and nine persons were about to claim the reward.

To avoid the costs of nine separate actions the railway company asked to pay into the district court $1,000 for the parties to whom it properly belonged and also for an injunction restraining the parties from bringing separate actions. Prothonotary Judge Campbell granted a temporary injunction.

It is very likely that if this injunction had not been granted the company would have been compelled to pay each and every one of the nine defendants the sum of $1,000, which would have been $9,000 instead of $1,000, as offered by the company for the arrest and conviction of the robbers.

felonious MURDER.

Coroner's Jury Returns a Verdict in the Sedgwick Poisoning Case.

NEWTON, March 22.—Coroner James McKee returned, from Sedgwick last night after completing a five days' inquest on the Snyder poisoning case at that place. The facts relating to the terrible deed have been carefully brought before the jury and thoroughly discussed.

An analysis of the contents of the stomach of Mrs. Snyder by Prof. Sayre of the State University, revealed large quantities of the deadly poison that caused her death.

There was but one verdict possible after the testimony had been heard and that was felonious murder on the part of some one.

MORRILL MEN TO CAPTURE IT.

The Republican County Convention at Leavenworth on Saturday.

LEAVENWORTH, March 22.—The Republican county central committee will probably meet in this city next Saturday afternoon to fix the date for a county convention to elect delegates to the state convention to be held at Topeka.

The county convention will in all probability be a stormy affair and if possible the Morrill men will capture it, at least that seems to be the present programme. Major Morrill is now at the Soldiers' Home.

FOUR WOMEN CANDIDATES IN KAN.

Kansas City, Kan., Likely to Have Two Women Members of School Board.

KANSAS CITY, March 22—Kansas will have four women candidates for local political offices at the election to be held shortly.

The Democrats of Kansas City, Kan., have nominated Mrs. Sarah Frame, a widow, and Mrs. Schaff, wife of a Union Pacific employee, for members of the board of education. The Independents of Rosedale, Kan., have nominated two prominent W. C. T. U. women, Mrs. Fanny Hollingshead and Mrs. Fred Bush for board of aldermen.

Endorsed Bush.

YATES CENTER, March 22.—The Republican county convention met in this place today to elect delegates to the congressional convention at Emporia. Six delegates were chosen and instructed to vote for Charles Curtis first, last and all the time. A raising vote was had on choice for governor, E. W. Hoch had 23 and E. N. Morrill had 15. There was a light attendance.

Theatrical Company Formed.

ANNE ARBOR, March 22.—A new theatrical company is being organized here and will take the road tomorrow. They are now rehearsing at the opera house. We understand that the company will be under the management of Malcolm Williams. The initial performance of the company will be given at Oklahoma City next Saturday evening.
